

Corona Bridging Loan Privacy Statement

Personal data are processed in the implementation of the Corona Overbruggingslening (Corona Bridging Loan – COL) facility. When applying for the COL, you provide personal data of yourself and of third parties. Business data that you provide may also include personal data if they can be directly or indirectly traced to a person. This Privacy Statement provides information on the manner in which personal data are handled. The personal data are of course processed with the greatest possible care.

The Regional Development Agencies (RDAs) and Techleap are the controllers within the meaning of the GDPR for the processing that takes place under the COL facility. They are jointly referred to below as “we” or “us”.

Personal data

The personal data that we process as part of the COL facility are obtained via the application or because the applicant provides us with those data in another manner or at a later time.

We process the following personal data as part of the application for a COL facility:

- data of the applicant, such as contact details and name and address details
- contact details of a contact regarding financing previously provided (if applicable)
- data of shareholders of the company (contact details, UBO and data regarding the share) and organisational setup
- LinkedIn profiles of the board members
- CVs of the board members
- integrity statement of the management board
- statements of approval
- reference number and other details of the application
- other information with which you provide us

When the application has been accepted for processing, we may process the following categories of personal data:

- details of the communication: by email, by telephone or in another manner
- bank and payment details

- background information available online, including online messages and credit information of the applicant, the incorporator(s), the managing director(s) and the shareholder(s)
- information provided by you

Purposes

We process these personal data to handle applications and to assess whether a bridging loan can be provided.

Specifically, we process the personal data for the following purposes:

- to check the criteria for granting the loan and assessing the application
- to maintain contact regarding the application
- to answer questions or comments, to provide information, and for current or future customer relationship management
- to handle complaints
- to perform a further investigation into the negative impact of the COVID-19 virus on the applicant (if considered necessary)
- to check the integrity and reliability of the applicant, the incorporator(s), the managing director(s) and the shareholder(s)
- to enter into and perform the loan agreement
- for statistic and scientific purposes
- to collect debts and to take debt collection measures (if necessary)
- to comply with legislation and regulations
- to render account to competent bodies, e.g. on the grounds of the statutory audit rules
- to perform tasks in the public interest and to account for those tasks
- to comply with court orders
- to perform audits
- to conduct proceedings

Grounds for the processing

The Central Government has assigned the implementation of the COL facility to the RDAs. The personal data processing performed is therefore necessary to perform a task in the public interest. We furthermore process personal data to comply with statutory obligations, such as obligations based on financial or tax legislation and regulations.

If we process personal data on the basis of consent, that consent will be separately requested. The consent may be withdrawn at any time. Until that withdrawal of consent, the processing of personal data is lawful, however.

Sharing of personal data

You provide the data for the application on Techleap's platform, which has access to the data. Techleap also provides the technical support (helpdesk), for which purpose it may be necessary to consult the data. When you file the application, it is (automatically) forwarded to the RDA of your own region. If the application comes under another RDA, the application is forwarded to that other RDA. Techleap draws up statistics on the basis of the applications. Those statistics cannot be traced to the applicants.

Your personal data may be accessed by third parties if that is necessary to achieve the aforesaid purposes, such as IT providers and (if applicable) organisations that screen your application and the applicant and its managing directors and shareholders. It is also possible that your personal data must be made available to a competent body on the grounds of the rendering of account by the RDA or compliance with a statutory obligation or court order.

Social media

If you provide an RDA or Techleap with data via social media channels, your data may be stored outside the European Union. We cannot influence that. Facebook, Twitter and LinkedIn are EU-US privacy shield registered. This means that they have declared that they will comply with the European privacy regulations. More information on this point can be found in the Privacy Statements of the social media channels in question.

Retaining periods

We will not retain the personal data any longer than is necessary for the purposes to be achieved and will comply with the statutory retention obligations.

Rights of data subjects

You have the right to request us to access, correct, supplement or block your personal data. You may also request us to remove your personal data. Finally, you may object to the processing of your personal data on the grounds of special personal circumstances.

You may present such a request or questions regarding this Privacy Statement to the RDA that is handling your application. The contact details of the various RDAs can be found on this page.

Amendment of this Privacy Statement

This Privacy Statement was most recently amended in May 2020. If this Privacy Statement is amended, we will publish the amended version on the website of RDA Netherlands and will inform you accordingly.
